SYDNEY REGIONAL TRAINER

Don Robertson has been involved in the Real Estate industry for the last 20 years.

After more than 18 years in the fashion industry, Don saw a lucrative opportunity to work as a real estate agent on the lower North Shore. Don has worked in some of Sydney's highest profile offices in the L. J. Hooker and Ray White franchises in Manly, Neutral Bay and Mosman.

Over the years, Don received many industry awards for "outstanding achievements" and was a regular "A-Lister" in the top 20 city salespeople awards.

Don is a fully licensed real estate agent, a practising auctioneer, and has a certificate IV in training and assessment. He lives on the Northern Beaches and can regularly be seen riding a wave at his local beach.

Don has a wealth of knowledge and experience in residential sales, auctioneering and commercial sales and leasing. He also enjoys the forum of public speaking and the training side of Real Estate and is now dedicated to sharing his experiences and knowledge through REET.

He is approachable, down to earth and is well respected by his peers both in the Real Estate and training industries.

Don welcomes any enquiry you may have regarding training courses with REET and looks forward to meeting you at one of his dynamic training sessions in the near future.
